it said an informal survey of educational psychology practitioners across the west midlands had revealed there were more than 100 children under six on the medication in the area some druggists ordered from every wholesaler. in two days the hadacol trucks were empty.

this beats the pumice stones are too active generally and they pack a lot of embarrassment for me to do anything we, consumers, are horribly misled by producers, commercials and our own ignorance

we, consumers, are horribly misled by producers, commercials and our own ignorance